CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Wednesday 28 July, 6.00pm for 6.30pm - 8.30pm
Science Oxford Live, St Clements, Oxford

£20 +VAT
(£10 +VAT for Science Oxford Networks Friends)
Free to students

Helen Porter, Employment Engagement Manager at e-skills UK, the Sector Skills Council for Business and Technology, will talk about the e-skills Professional Programme.

This offers a ready made Continuous Professional Development package for IT professionals, delivered by the Open University or Lancaster University Management School. Its flexible delivery allows it to fit around the daily demands of the workplace.

We will start off the evening with our series of short soapbox-style introductions that can be used to:

- introduce yourselves to the rest of the 4ICT attendees
- highlight skills and expertise
- mention any collaborations that are being sought.

To submit your soapbox slot, please contact emma.wightman@scienceoxford.com
